

II. OUPUT

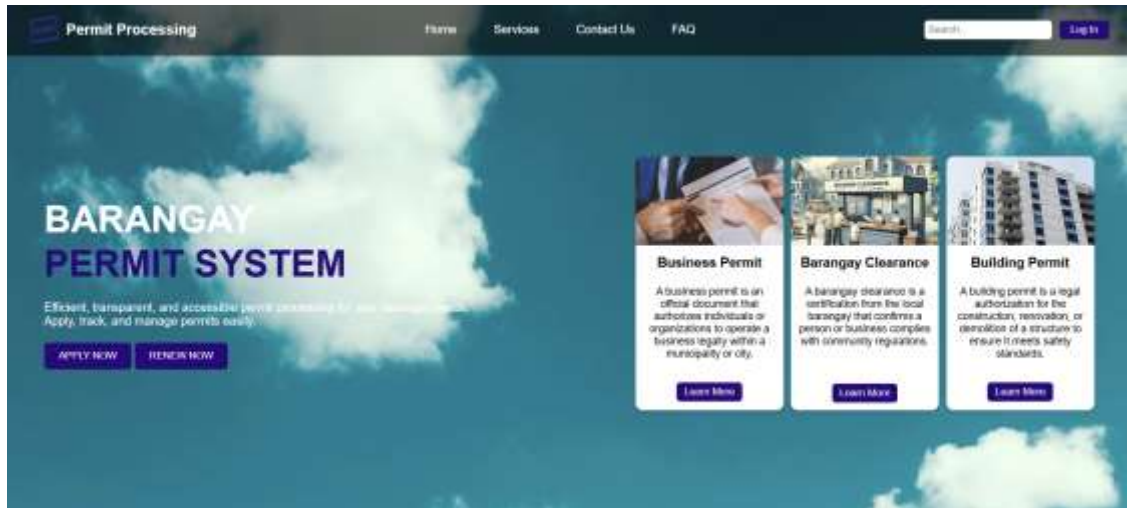

Figure 1.1 Home Section

This section presents the Barangay Permit System which aims to facilitate the application, monitoring, and processing of all permits that are necessary for barangay-related activities. Emphasis is given to the core functions like the Business Permit, which permits an individual or a corporate body to carry on business activities within the limits of a city or town; the Barangay Clearance, which is issued indicating that a person or entity has completed the local requirements for a certain purpose whether personal or for business.; and the Building Permit, which provides approval to a person to build, remodel, redecorate or demolish a structure within the premises as required by law for health and safety purposes. Towards that end, the system intends to be effective, and reliable, and to enable the users to easily get their permits as fast as possible.

Figure 1.2 Services Section

Figure 1.2 contains a detailed description of the principal services that the Barangay Permit System provides to make the entire process of securing permits easier and faster. It discusses the Business Permit that allows for the operation of a business in a municipality or a city after the registration of the business for tax purposes and the acquisition of all the requisites permits. This section goes on to discuss Barangay Clearance a document certifying that an individual is fit to reside, work, or conduct business in an area following the local laws; usually issued upon request from a resident or applicant seeking legal or employment access. Furthermore, it touches on the Building Permit, which allows for construction, renovation, or demolition activities on the premises subject to considerations of safety and adherence to laid-down building codes. In this part of the document, the services available in the system are discussed in detail concerning how they assist users in processing permits within the law and in a convenient manner.

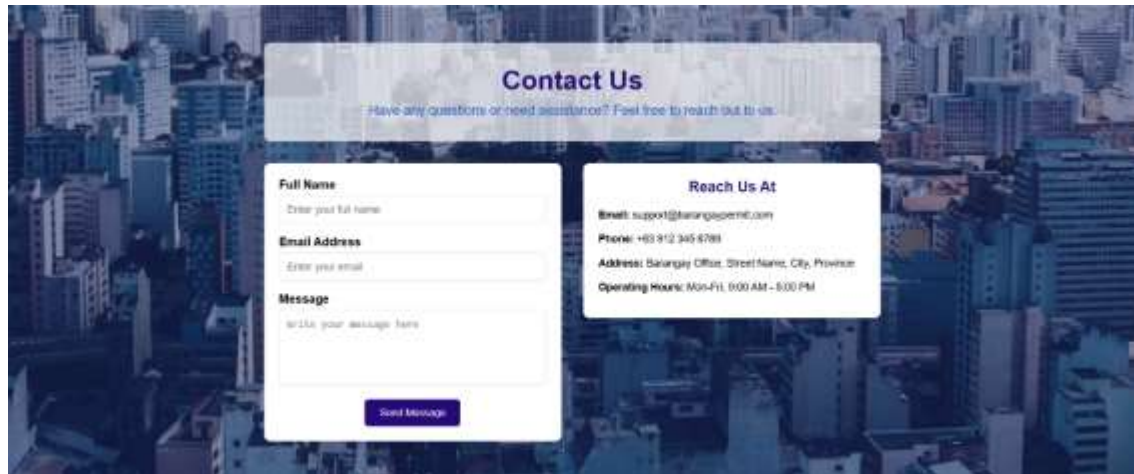

Figure 1.3 Contact Us Section

This section, Figure 1.3 provides users with a convenient way to reach out for assistance or inquiries regarding the Barangay Permit System. It contains a form with fields for full names, email addresses, together with a box to fill in and send the message to the support personnel. Furthermore, important information is also provided in this section such as email and phone number, physical address and times available to work which are 9:00AM to 5:00PM from Monday to Friday giving different ways of communication. This particular section highlights contact and their support, therefore it should be easy to reach out to management in case of any queries or concerns.

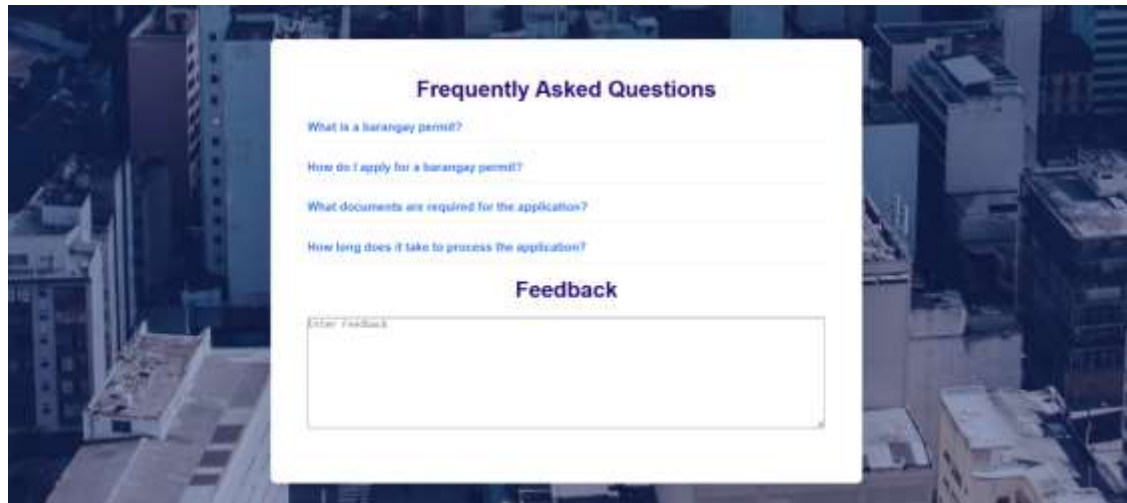

Figure 1.4 Frequently Asked Questions Section

This section, titled Figure 1.4, features a "Frequently Asked Questions" (FAQ) panel designed to provide users with concise answers to common inquiries. It includes clickable questions like "What is a barangay permit?" and "How do I apply for a barangay permit?" to guide visitors through essential information about the barangay permit application process, required documents, and estimated processing times.

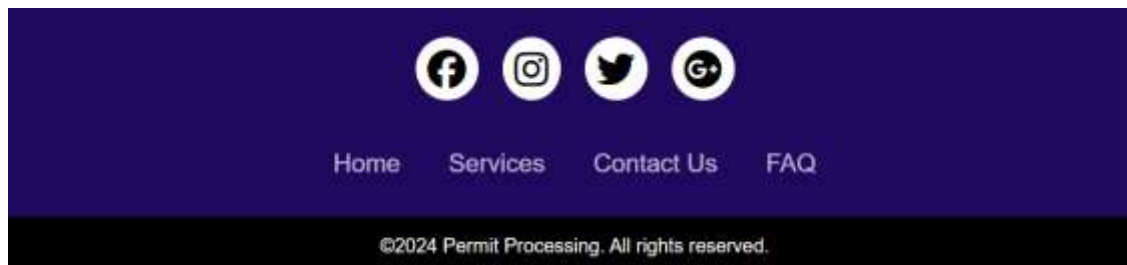

Figure 1.5 Footer Section

The illustration 1.5 displays the footer section of the webpage. The section has rounded studies of social network sites including Facebook, Instagram, Twitter, and Google Plus. In addition, is a navigation menu that allows users comfortable access to relevant pages that include Home, Services, Contact Us, and FAQ.

The screenshot shows a web application titled 'Permit Processing' with a dark header. The main content area has a background image of a city skyline. A central dark overlay contains the form titled 'Apply for a Barangay Permit'. Below the title is a subtitle: 'Select the type of permit and provide the required information below.' The form fields are: 'Permit Type:' with a dropdown menu showing 'Business Permit'; 'Full Name:' with a text input field; 'Address:' with a text input field; 'Contact Number:' with a text input field; and 'Upload Requirements:' with a file upload button labeled 'Choose File' and a text label 'No file chosen'. At the bottom of the form is a blue button labeled 'Submit Application'.

Figure 1.6 Apply Section

Figure 1.6 presents the main application page for requesting a Barangay Permit. It contains a simple form for applicants to choose the permits needed, their name, address, and contact number, and enclose other supported documents. This section is designed to be clear and accessible and is optimally positioned to help in the shortening of the permit application timeline.

The screenshot shows a web application titled 'Permit Processing' with a dark header. The main content area has a background image of a city skyline. A central dark overlay contains the form titled 'Renew Your Barangay Permit'. Below the title is a subtitle: 'For returning users, please provide your Reference Number to load your details.' The form fields are: 'Reference Number:' with a text input field and a blue 'Load Details' button; 'Full Name:' with a text input field; 'Address:' with a text input field; 'Contact Number:' with a text input field; and 'Permit Type:' with a dropdown menu showing 'Business Permit'.

Figure 1.7 Renew Section

Figure 1.7 shows the renewal page for a Barangay Permit, designed for returning users. Users can just enter their reference number to fill in their details to save time automatically.

Figure 1.8 Tracking Section

Figure 1.8 shows a permit tracking interface for monitoring the progress of a Barangay Permit application. The system takes five steps: Application Submitted, Verification in Progress, Payment Confirmed, Permit Approved, and Ready to Pick Up Permit. The portion of the tracking interface that indicates that the application is being reviewed is marked with the interpretation "Verification in Progress." Users have to check back with updates, and a "Back to Home" button offers a way back to the main page. This interface helps users keep abreast with the status of their applications.

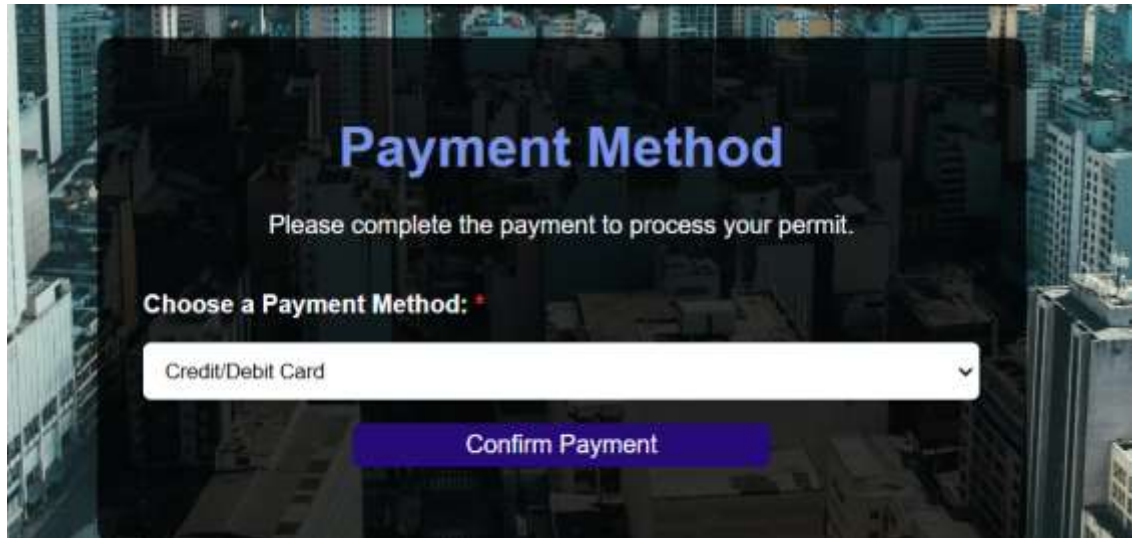

Figure 1.9 Payment Section

Figure 1.9 shows the payment interface for processing a permit. Users are instructed to choose a payment method from a dropdown menu, with "Credit/Debit Card" displayed as the default option. After selecting their preferred payment method, they can click the "Confirm Payment" button to proceed. This functionality simplifies the payment process, enabling users to complete their renewal efficiently.

Figure 1.9 Log in Section

Figure 1.9 shows the login screen for a permit-processing system. The "Log In" button provides secure access to the system. After successful login, users will be redirected to their personal dashboard where they get to see all their information and to track as well the status of their permits.